

Nature and Conservation of Animals and Wildlife When Participating with Horses and Hounds

By Lily Shenloogian, 8 years old
Harvard Fox Hounds
Oklahoma

When I think of caring for horses, first I think it is most important to be kind to them. It is important to take good care of the horses with proper diet, regular vet care, and trimmed hooves. Finally, it is important to have a fit horse that has enough endurance for the hunt.

When I think about the hounds, it is also important to provide them with love, care, and proper nutrition. The hounds also need plenty of exercise and training to hunt well. When hunting, it is important to watch the hounds for any signs of being tired or hurt.

When we hunt, we get to enjoy nature. It is important to try to leave nature and the hunt fixture better than before we came. It is important to care for the land by helping keep the trails cleared. It is important to leave wildlife as undisturbed as possible.

When participating with horses and hounds, respect and care for the animals and nature is the best way to continue the tradition of foxhunting.
